PICHER TO DESCRIBE EAST AFRICAN TRIP

Mr. Stan Picher will give an illustrated talk at our regular May meeting on a trip he organized to East Africa in August and September of 1964. The trip was led by Mr. John Williams of the Coryndon Museum in Nairobi who is also the author of the recently published Field Guide to the Birds of East Africa. Mr. Picher is President of the Marin Audubon Society and was accompanied by several of our members.

This meeting will be held Thursday, May 13, at the First Unitarian Church, Franklin and Geary Streets, San Francisco. The evening will start with a social hour at 6 p.m. and dinner ($1.50 per person) at 6:30. Our regular meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. Dinner reservations must be made by post card to Bonnie Smith, 555 Dewey Blvd., San Francisco 16, or by telephone only on Wednesday evening, May 12 (OV 1-7635). We'll look forward to seeing you — and a friend. — THOMAS B. WILLIAMSON, Program Chairman.

FIELD TRIPS FOR MAY

Saturday, May 1 (as listed in the April Gull) to McCoy Ranch, Arroyo Mocho, southwest of Livermore. Orioles, phainopeplas, western kingbirds, yellow-billed magpies, and Lewis' woodpeckers are usually seen. Meet in Livermore one block beyond the tall flagpole on Livermore Ave. at 9 a.m. Allow about one hour's driving time from Oakland. Leader, Erline Hevel, MO 1-4251.

Saturday, May 1, a trip for early morning birders to Patterson Pass area. Black-chinned and sage sparrows, Lawrence's goldfinch, lazuli bunting, Costa's hummingbird and other species not common to the lower areas may be seen. Meet at 6 a.m. one block beyond flagpole on Livermore Ave. in Livermore. Leaders: Marie Mans, 848-5186 and Arthur Wang, 524-7399.

Sunday, May 2, the McCoy Ranch trip will be repeated. Leader, Aileen Pierson, JU 7-4163.

Friday, May 7, Moraga area. We have permission to hike up a private road (Valley Hill Road) off Bollinger Canyon Road. Meet at 9 a.m. at the parking area inside the main entrance to St. Mary's College, Moraga. Bring lunch. Leader, Mrs. Phyllis Zweigart, 526-7295.

Sunday, May 9, Jack London Ranch, Glen Ellen, Sonoma County. This is the home of Marianne Shepard and Susan Shepard. Wooded slopes, covered with oaks, shrubs and conifer, offer an ideal habitat for birds. The rolling meadows should be covered with wildflowers. Red-shouldered hawks nest on the ranch. Meet at 9 a.m. at Glen Ellen Post Office. Leader, Marianne Shepard, Box 141, Glen Ellen.

Thursday, May 13, Mt. Diablo State Park. Among many attractive flowers growing there are 18 Great Valley species at their western limit and 42 other species at their northern or southern limits. Meet at 8:30 a.m. at the junction of Domingo Ave. and Russell St., Berkeley, which is beside the Berkeley Tennis Club below the Claremont Hotel. Everyone living north or west of that point please stop there to assist in carrying passengers. Those living to the east go directly to Danville, where we shall all meet at 9:15 at the start of the road going east to Mt. Diablo. If using public transportation to Domingo and Russell, take the A/C "E" bus from San Francisco to the end of the line in Berkeley. Locally, take the 74 bus up Ashby Ave. There is a 50¢ entrance fee per car to the Park. Bring interested friends and don't omit lunch. Leader, Marshall Jencks, 534-9353.

Wednesday, May 19, Golden Gate Park. Spring plumage and song will be at its best. Nesting warblers and hummingbirds will be present. This trip will start at 10 a.m. from the Aquarium in Golden Gate Park. It can be reached by taking the number 10 bus. Leader Florence Plymell, PR 6-1208.

Friday-Sunday, May 21-23, Yosemite National Park, for many unusual birds. In previous years, at this time, great gray and pygmy owl, black-backed three-toed woodpecker and Williamson's sapsucker were seen. Interesting mammals and beautiful flowers can be observed. The waterfalls are most spectacular at this time. Phone the Yosemite Park and Curry Co. in San Francisco for information on available accommodations. For the campers it is first come first served. Field trips will start from the main post office in Yosemite at 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. on Saturday and 9 a.m. on Sunday. This meeting place is in the Government Center. The Saturday afternoon trip will be to the meadows on the Glacier Point Road to look for the great gray owl.

Saturday, June 5, Fleishhacker Zoo and beach areas, San Francisco. Bank swallow, a bird of unique nesting habit, will be the main attraction. After birding in and around the zoo, a walk will be made along the beach to observe the swallows nesting in the banks bordering the shoreline. Come prepared to walk in the sand. Meet at the north entrance to the zoo on Sloat Blvd. at 9:15 a.m. Leader, Ailcen Pierson, JU 7-4168.

Proposed trip for long-range planning: Saturday-Sunday, June 26-27, to Beth Snyder's cabin at Clark Station in the northern Sierra.

MRS. VALERIA DaCOSTA, Field Trips Chairman

ALBATROSS EXPEDITION

The annual offshore trip from Santa Cruz will be held on Monday, June 14. The Stagnaro sport fishing boat will leave the Santa Cruz Municipal Wharf at 7:30 a.m. and return about noon. The boat is limited to 50 observers. Tickets are $1.50 and reservations should be made in advance with Viola Anderson, 227 Linden St., Santa Cruz, Calif., or phone Leavitt McQuesten, 423-2989. Motels are available in the area.

ANNUAL BANQUET — JUNE 10

Golden Gate Audubon Society's Annual Banquet will be held Thursday evening, June 10, in the Lakeside Park Garden Center, Oakland. Please mark your calendar to save this date. Details will be in the June Gull.

BARBECUE AT CANYON RANCH

All the members of Golden Gate Audubon Society are cordially invited to attend the chicken barbecue which Marin Audubon Society is holding at Canyon Ranch for the benefit of its Scholarship Fund and the Ranch's Maintenance Fund on Mother's Day, May 9, from 11 to 4. Luncheon will be served at noon. A program of wildflower and bird walks has been planned. Young and eggs of great blue herons and common egrets will be visible from telescopes at the new overlook. Admission is $3.00 for adults and $1.50 for children under 13. Please send checks for reservations to Marin Audubon Society, P.O. Box 441, Tiburon. For further information call Stan Picher, President, at 435-0766. (Audubon Canyon Ranch is on Bolinas Lagoon north of Stinson Beach.)

Please continue sending Blue Chip Stamps to the Ross Valley 4H Club, c/o Agricultural Extension Service, Civic Center, San Rafael, to help them raise $800 for one acre of Audubon Canyon Ranch.

RADIO STATION KPFA will broadcast a program entitled "A Visit to Audubon Canyon Ranch" on Saturday, May 15, at 2:15 p.m. Produced by Joan McIntyre, the program will include a tape-recorded tour of the heron-egret rookery.

FIELD OBSERVATIONS

Dr. Martin Edwards of Kingston, Ontario, discovered a male oldsquaw on San Francisco Bay near Fort Baker on March 13. Between that date and March 31 many members of Golden Gate Audubon observed the oldsquaw at close range near Fort Baker (east of the Golden Gate Bridge), Marin County. We found him a very cooperative photographer's model.

Highlights for the Mt. Diablo Audubon Society's Christmas Count held December 27 were 18 cliff swallows, 1 European widgeon, 1 prairie falcon, and 2 chipping sparrows — reported in the April Quail by Lynn Farrar. Ed. Note: A prairie falcon was perched on a bare tree limb near the summit of Mt. Diablo on March 7 and allowed me to approach within 40 feet of him, but he flew off as I was setting up my camera tripod.

POINT REYES BIRD OBSERVATORY

The Western Bird Banding Association, working with Professor L. R. Mewaldt of San Jose State College, has established a Bird Observatory at Point Reyes, with the cooperation of the National Park Service. Paul DeBenedictis is working at the Observatory as a naturalist. The program includes banding and the interpretation of data on migration and population.

Point Reyes National Seashore Park Headquarters now has a printed checklist of birds of Point Reyes compiled by Marin and Golden Gate Audubon members.

FOR THE CHILDREN

The next meeting will be on Saturday, May 22, at the Rotary Natural Science Center at Lake Merritt, Oakland, and will be led by Mr. Paul Covel. It is open to all children, but those under eight years of age must be accompanied by an adult, and all adults must be accompanied by children. The trip starts at 10:30 a.m. and will be over a little after 12. Bring your lunch.

Directions for reaching the waterfowl refuge, duck feeding area, and Rotary Natural Science Center in Lakeside Park: From San Francisco, after leaving the Bay Bridge Toll Plaza, take the MacArthur Freeway — Highway 50 to the Harrison Street exit, turn right on Harrison to Grand Avenue, then left on Grand for a long block to the Lakeside Park entrance. Drive through the park to the "Duck Pond." The B bus from San Francisco stops at Grand Avenue and Perkins St. — one block from the "Duck Pond" and Natural Science Center.

Goslings and Ducklings

Goslings are baby geese. You will be sure to see on Lake Merritt a large gray-brown goose with a black head and neck and a white neckband. This is the Canada Goose. It builds its nest on the shores of Lake Merritt in a safe place, usually on the islands in the lake. Here several feet from the water a large nest is built out of sticks and leaves and well lined with goose down plucked from the bird's breast. The eggs, as many as nine, are large measuring $3\frac{1}{2}$ inches in length, and $2\frac{1}{2}$ wide. They are a dull yellowish-white. After laying the eggs the mother goose sits on them for about 28 days until the goslings hatch. At this time they are about as large as a three-week old duckling. Soon after hatching, the baby birds are taken to the water and then across to the lawns on the other side. Here while the parents feed upon seeds and grass the young ones find tiny insects to gobble up. At night the mother takes them back to the nest and broods them or keeps them warm and safe. When Canada Geese goslings hatch they are tannish in color but after 10 days they turn gray. Since they have not yet exchanged their nestling down, or first feathers, for real feathers it is probable that the grayness appears as the feathers begin to grow out.

You will also be seeing plenty of baby ducklings too. Mother and Father Mallard look quite different, for he has a splendid green head and a white necktie and a tail with a saucy little curl at the end, while she is a streaky brown and never has a curly tail. The way you can tell that they are both mallards is by what is known as the speculum or shoulder pad of deep purple bordered along the edges with black and white. A mallard builds its nest nearer to the water than a Canada Goose does. This nest is hidden in the weeds or grasses and is built of leaves and grasses and also very warmly lined with down. Duck eggs are only a little larger than hen's eggs and are yellowish or pale greenish white. A mother mallard may lay anywhere from 5 to 14 eggs, and it is not unusual to find a brood of 11 or 12 following her around on Lake Merritt. She sits on the unhatched eggs for 23 to 24 days and the baby ducklings when hatched are dark brownish with a stripe through the eye. Mother Mallard calls to her young from time to time when they are swimming on the lake because she wants to keep them near her. One wonders whether she can count them all and sometimes it is true that one duckling wanders off and she seems to lose track of him — at least for a while. She too takes her ducklings back to the nest at night to keep them warm. It isn't long before they begin to sprout real feathers and when they do the young look like their mother and not their father, though they do have the same wing markings as both of their parents.

You should have a wonderful time with Mr. Covel. He takes lots of children on field trips and knows the best places to go and the finest things to see. Have a good time! — JANET NICKELSBURG, Education Chairman
